Ireland has come a long way with the food scene and every county in Ireland varies in flavor. County Cork has put Ireland on the map for the food scene and many consider it the food capital of the country. I've selected the "best of the best" for food finds for our visit in County Cork. Great food mixed with breathtaking views and a dash of comedy from your host...I don't think you can beat it! (Pictured: Kinsale on left -Ballymaloe House on right)
